

ART EXPEDITION II

Firenze Toscana Roma
Venezia

The Art. The Architecture. The History. The People. The Renaissance.

Italy has been a treasure trove of inspiration for artists since the dawn of time. It should be no wonder then, that artist Jason Kamin is seeking this source of inspiration to include in his upcoming works.

"I expect to get so much out of this expedition; bright colors, textured stonework, beautiful lighting, rolling landscapes and reflective waters. Fountains and castles, vineyards and gondolas, this expedition will mark a significant change in direction from my historical painting genre, with greater influence from mankind's creations throughout history."

Following up on the success of his inaugural Expedition Nepal, Jason is once again offering an incentive for art investors to take advantage of a special event. He will be offering a discount of 23% off the standard sale price of his works. The one month expedition is scheduled for April 2015.

How does it work? Sign up and invest before March 7th! As an investor, the painting will be paid for in advance to help fund the expedition. Paintings will be created in the order they are received. Jason will discuss reference material and ideas with you before and upon his return, or if you have always wanted something specific, you can choose any subject you wish! You can email Jason (jasonkaminart@gmail.com) to secure your place for a painting or for more information. Feel free to extend the offer beyond the office to anyone with the love of fine art!
